

U.S. Embassy Bahrain
Demonstration Notice 9 – February 14, 2013

Spontaneous demonstrations take place in Bahrain from time to time in response to world events or local developments. United States citizens should keep current with media coverage of local events and be aware of their surroundings at all times. If you encounter a large public gathering or demonstration, depart the vicinity immediately.

The U.S. Embassy reminds all U.S. citizens that there may be increased demonstrations, attempts to disrupt traffic, protests near economic centers, suspicious packages planted, tire fires or clashes against security forces.

We anticipate that widespread and frequent demonstrations along the Budaiya Highway corridor will continue from today through February the 17th. It is recommended that you avoid travel along the Budaiya Highway corridor during these dates. (Yellow Ovals)

We also anticipate that certain opposition groups will attempt to march on the Al Farooq junction today through February 17th. These groups will likely make their attempt from various areas near the junction, including the Central Market area and Manama Souq area. It is recommended that you avoid this area due to the potential for violent clashes between police forces and demonstrators. (Yellow Circles)

It is important to note that there have been no direct attacks on U.S. citizens to date. While we are aware of the above, it is important to note that spontaneous demonstrations have also been triggered by regional events in the past; however, there have been no direct attacks on U.S. citizens in Bahrain. That said, spontaneous and at times violent anti-government demonstrations occur in some neighborhoods, particularly at night and on weekends. These demonstrations have included blockades of major highways with burning debris and establishment of unofficial checkpoints. Participants have thrown rocks and Molotov cocktails and used various other homemade weapons, including isolated use of improvised explosive devices. The Ministry of Interior maintains official checkpoints in some areas and routinely uses tear gas and stun grenades along with birdshot and other crowd control measures against demonstrators. Violent clashes between security forces and demonstrators can make travel in and around Bahrain dangerous without advance warning.

We remind U.S. citizens that even demonstrations intended to be peaceful can turn confrontational and possibly escalate into violence. U.S. citizens are therefore urged to avoid the areas of demonstrations if possible, and to exercise caution if within the vicinity of any demonstrations.
